'Dolly Bhargava has facilitated a variety of informative, insightful and practical workshops across WA for the Developmental Disability WA (DDWA). Her extensive knowledge of behavioural and sensory needs for individuals with disabilities of all ages has benefited a variety of people across the disability sector including parents, disability support staff and professionals. She has also developed a number of useful resources for DDWA such as making Making Changes through Goal Setting and Personalised Learning Support Plans Used in Education.'

- Mary Butterworth, R.I.S.E. Manager, DDWA

'Dolly is highly regarded in the Education Support Sector in Western Australia for her professionalism and innovation in the areas of communication and behaviour. I have had the experience of Dolly's delivery of professional learning, and the subsequent creation of behaviour plans to a wide range of audiences: individuals, parents, whole staff meetings, network meetings and conferences. She is held in high esteem by our staff and parents.'

- Adrian Piers, Principal, Dianella Secondary College Education Support Centre

'The recommendations from Dolly and her Behaviour Zen resources helped us immensely at home and socially. Our son was able to participate and be included in the sporting community, enjoy family holidays and social gatherings with a lot more success.' - Parent, D. Walker
