Dear Alumni of Steiner Schools,

We write to you as a former student of a Steiner school, and in our capacity as Teacher Trainers in Waldorf/Rudolf Steiner Education.

Over the past years we have had the great joy of seeing a slow but steady rise in the number of young adults who have themselves been educated in Steiner Schools, coming to the Melbourne Rudolf Steiner Teacher Training Seminar to undertake the Advanced Diploma of Rudolf Steiner Education, with a view to becoming a Steiner teacher.

Young people from all over Australia and around the world have made their way here with a new interest in their education, which emerges after completing their secondary schooling, perhaps travelling and working, or completing tertiary study or other training. The question arises: "What next?"

While they have had an experience of Steiner education as a child, some begin to seek understanding of it from a new adult point of view, particularly if they are seeking to find their path through tertiary study to establish a career. Maybe this is you! Have you thought of becoming a teacher in a Steiner School? There is a great need for trained Steiner teachers, here in Australia and internationally.

We are excited to announce a new pathway to a Bachelor of Education (Primary) at the Australian Catholic University: this provides credit for the first two years of the Bachelor course, leaving you with two years to complete your teacher training.

If you are wondering what this course is all about, have a look at past posts on our Facebook site which captures daily life here for students, or look at news and events on our website, which also tells a story.

We have an Information Evening coming up on Tuesday 14th November at 7.30 p.m.

Find out more about this inspiring course (VET Student Loans and Austudy approved for eligible students), its pathways to a Bachelor of Education, career prospects, meet staff and graduates, and get a feel for our campus here in Warranwood.

If you can't make this Information Evening, you are welcome to speak to us via Skype or phone.
